Show your support for grieving children by holding on to HOPE.

For the last several years, we have been letting grieving children know that people across the globe are "holding onto HOPE" for them through the tragic times in their lives through our Holding onto to HOPE photo campaign.

We know people support Children's Grief Awareness Day for many different reasons. We want everyone to share why Children's Grief Awareness Day is important to them. Take a photo, share it, and let others know why this cause is important to you.

- 1 Show your support:
Take a picture holding on to HOPE.

- 2 Share your support:
Share it with others. Share it with us. #CGADHOPE
